Daigneau Elected Senate President

Program Completed For Greek Dinner

By RALPH VILLERS

Final arrangements have been completed for the Greek Week Banquet being held in the Commons at 6:30 Tuesday evening. Tickets may still be secured through today.

The speaker will be Rev. Kermit Long of Chicago. I. William Miller, director of the bureau of appointments, is toastmaster. Song leader is Joe Seabold of Napoleon.

Stray Greeks are being encouraged to attend the banquet as well as the picnic climaxing Greek Week on Friday evening. Banquet tickets may be secured from Interfraternity Council representatives, Dick Stensby at the Sigma Nu house, and Mr. Miller in the bureau of appointments.

Alpha Tau Omega will be the first group to sing in the May Sing Thursday night. They will begin at 7 p.m. and will be followed at 15 minute intervals by the remainder of the fraternities in alphabetical order.

The third judge for the contest as announced by the Greek Week Committee is William Engelke of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Toledo. Karl Roeder of Ohio Northern University and Clarence R. Ball of Toledo are the other judges. The sing is being held in the Men's Gym.

Ample refreshments will be provided at the picnic closing the week. The field east of Urschel's Quarry is the site of this newly introduced event. It will begin at 8 p.m.

Expense of the picnic will be borne by each fraternity on a pro rata basis for the number of men attending from their respective fraternities.

BG Professors

Join Conference

Lyle Fletcher, assistant professor of geography and geology, is speaking today on the "status of geography in Ohio teachers training institution" at the Ohio Academy of Science 59th annual meeting at Capital University, Columbus. The meeting started yesterday and ends tomorrow.

Besides Mr. Fletcher, other faculty members of the geology and geography dept. in attendance are: Dr. Samuel Mayfield, Dr. Lowry Karnes, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buford, and John Coash.

A Phi O To Sponsor 'Ugly Man' Contest

By HAL FRALEY

The Ugly Man Contest, annually sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, will be Wednesday, May 10, with proceeds from the election going to the local cancer drive.

Plans for the contest were announced Monday night by Student Senate. This is the only campus election that can be bought out-right. Voting is accomplished by casting pennies.

Deadline for entries is May 9. Only photographs may be submitted, but the candidate may be "made-up."

Next year's sophomore president, Wally Jones, gave the Senate two proposed rules to govern the incoming freshmen in the fall; a 75 cents additional registration fee to cover the cost of beanies, and new style Ac Cards showing the holder's class rank.

Jack Taylor, Bob Taylor, Vern Wright, and Elinor Elsass were appointed to a committee to help plan next year's frosh "hazing." Senator Jack Brigham moved, in view of the recent class election tie, that first place ballots be the determining factor in future ties.

Sigma Chi Plans Third Derby Day

Sigma Chi's third annual Derby Day will be held Saturday afternoon, May 6, at the Lab School playground from 1:15 to 3:30 it was announced recently by Derby Day Chairman Jim Milburn.

This year, as always, Derby Day will be a concoction of three-legged races, egg-tossing contests, a tug-of-war, and another big surprise "mystery event" plus many other contests.

The housemothers of last year's winners, Alpha Tau Omega and Gamma Phi Beta, along with Mrs. Smith, Sigma Chi housemother, will be the scorekeepers. Judging of all events will be by Sigma Chi faculty members.

All social groups recognized by the Student Senate are invited to enter the Derby Day contest. Competition will be divided into a men's and women's division and separate trophies awarded to the winner in each class.

Publicity chairman for the affair, Ken Tigges and Ken Kisselle, are arranging for coverage of the contests by area newspapers.

Cincinnati Hosts Business Deans

Dean Harshman is attending the 32nd annual meeting of the American Ass'n of Collegiate Schools of Business, on April 27, 28, and 29 in Cincinnati, O.

Topics to be discussed will be: "Creditation, Discrimination in College Admissions," "Preparing College Teachers," and "The Role of University in International Understanding."

The two main speakers of the meeting are: Mr. W. Howard Cox, president of the Union Central Life Insurance Co., who will speak on "Business Education the Hard Way," and Mr. Richard R. Deupree, who is chairman of the Board of the Proctor and Gamble Co., will speak on "Training for Managerial Responsibility."

The University of Cincinnati will be host to the deans.

Bishop Wins Over Marko In Senior Run-Off Election

Phys Ed Degree Still Undecided

By LOIS HAYES

No definite decisions were made last weekend when seven Ohio universities met to discuss a program that might be adopted by the institutions in order to offer a Masters Degree in physical education.

Sam Cooper, of the University health and physical education dept., said it was hoped that Bowling Green would have a graduate study in that field by next summer and that the high standards of the present program would still be maintained by it.

The 2-day meeting, which was suggested by Mr. Cooper, was attended by the deans of education and representatives from the physical education depts. of Ohio State, Miami, Ohio University, Western Reserve, University of Cincinnati, Kent, and Bowling Green. Chairman of the meeting was Dr. Delbert Oertner of Ohio State. Bowling Green was represented by Dr. Russell Coffey, Dr. Emerson Shuck, and Mr. Cooper.

Each university represented at the meeting was offering or interested in offering a graduate program in physical education. Mr. Cooper claimed it would be perfectly possible for Bowling Green to offer such a program on a gradually evolving basis.

KEY Distribution Begins Thursday

Distribution of the 1950 KEY begins next Thursday, Editor Alan Rosenberg announced today. Copies may be picked up in the KEY office, in the Lab School basement.

Ac cards must be presented, and the 12 cents tax fee must be paid. Students who have only been enrolled one semester this year must pay $2.05 to secure a KEY.

Scheduled hours of distribution are Thursday, May 4, 7-10 p.m., and concurrently on: Friday, 2-5 p.m.; Monday, 7-10 p.m.; Tuesday, 7-10 p.m.; and Wednesday, 2-5 p.m.

NEW BOOSTER EMBLEM

In what was probably the largest student election in recent years, Lou Daigneau polled 556 votes of 1099 cast to edge out his opponent, Tom Hageman, for Student Senate president. Forty other votes were disqualified because of improper marking.

Bill Bishop, in the unprecedented re-ballot election for senior president, drew 205 of 332 votes placed.

Marion Hampton was elected vice president of the Senate; Dottie Burger won the secretary position; and Vernon Wright is treasurer.

Under the new amendment to the Senate Constitution, the president of the Senate will now be filled by the vice president in case of a vacancy. A new vice president would then be elected by the Senate from their body.

And in the case of a vacancy of the presidency of a class, office will go to the vice president; other vacancies will be filled by an all-campus election.

Under the old arrangement, the vice president moved into the office of president and a chairman of the presidential cabinet was elected from the Senate body to supervise the nine committees.

Morton Gould Leads Music Show Sunday

Morton Gould, noted American composer, will be the guest conductor of the annual Ohio Intercollegiate Band Festival to be held in the Men's Gym Sunday at 3:15.

Mr. Gould, who has written classical, semi-classical, and popular music, is best known for his combination of popular American music with the classical forms. He said that he attempts to write music the way one speaks.

The first half of the program will be conducted by outstanding Ohio college band directors. They will be: Arthur Williams, Oberlin College; Jack Evans, Ohio State; Charles Harris, Toledo University; and Arthur C. Zuelzke, Bowling Green State University.

The second half of the program will be conducted by Mr. Gould who will conduct a group of his own compositions, including "Jericho," "Cowboy Rhapsody," some of the Holiday music, and other shorter selections.

Elizabeth Arnholt, president of the Student Senate has selected the following May Day committee:

Mrs. Alice Connor and Gordon Beck, co-directors; Jeannine Morris, dance; Helen Kreitzer, costume and make-up; Barbara Botenous, flowers; Jim Sponseller, script; Abe Bassett, publicity; Dick Hoffman, and Ralph Villers. Miss Joan Brodie and Mrs. Henry Bertodatto are faculty advisers.

Carol Mulqueeny, last year's queen, will crown the new ruler. She is always a senior, selected by the student body, the next highest candidate being the senior attendant. If the committee decides to have male escorts for the queens, they will be selected by lot from the fraternities and from the Men's Independent Society.

In case of rain, the affair will be held in the Main Aud.

Home Ec Majors Collect Labels

Spring always turns a girl's thoughts to new, exciting clothes. But to BGSU home economics majors this splurge for spring clothes means more than fashion-right styles; it means a collection of manufacturers' labels.

In one home ec. class the girls are required to save the labels from everything they buy, from stockings to formals. When shopping the first thing the salesgirl is asked is, "Where is the label on this garment?"

All this concentrated collecting leads one to wonder if when a home ec. major has to choose between two dress does she choose the prettiest or the one with the fore informative label?

MORTON GOULD

The band will be composed of 94 students representing 15 Ohio colleges and universities. These students are the best and most talented music students from the colleges and universities of Ohio. They will arrive here Saturday morning, register and receive room assignments. Rehearsals for the concert will be Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

Contemporary American music, arranged especially for bands, will be played at the concert. Only one number will be a transcription for orchestra.

A great demand for seats is anticipated. Tickets may be purchased in the music dept. office, Bigelow Music Shoppe, or Centre Drug Store.

Luminous Paint To Adorn Steps

Are you one of the unfortunate who, after walking your girl home after a date, have tripped over some of the dark steps along Sorority Row.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, plans to paint some of these places with luminous paint in order that the steps can be seen more easily.

The particular spots are the steps between the Alpha Phi and Kappa Delta houses and between the Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Gamma houses.

A delegation made up of BEE GEE NEWS staff members and one KEY representative will attend the Ohio College Newspaper Ass'n convention in Cincinnati today and tomorrow.

Panels will be held during the course of the convention to discuss problems confronting the collegiate press. Les Grube, business manager, and Bill Day, editor-in-chief, will be two of the panel chairmen.

Charles P. Taft, noted lawyer, will be the speaker for the annual OCNA banquet planned for Saturday evening. Following the dinner the publication and individual award winners will be announced.

The BG delegation is composed of: William P. Day, Les Grube, Bob Smith, John Radabaugh, Duane Zumbrunn, Jim Duerk, Hal Fraley, Allan Libbe, and Russell Baird, faculty adviser.

In Reply . . .

In answer to Neil Jordan's letter, we feel that he has overlooked some facts in his observations. First of all, Mr. Jordan feels that we "skirted" the issue in our previous editorials because the student body does not have the right to approve or suggest rules governing the students' lives.

What our ardent critic does not seem to realize is that the student body will never have the strength to govern itself when the problem is approached from a negative point of view. Never in history has any change in governing policy ever taken place where there was a listless and apathetic public. Progressive government may only be achieved through a concentrated effort made by the people to achieve such a reward.

Interest in an active government is the only assured cure for regimentation. It is the basis on which a democracy is formed. It is only when the support from the public wanes that the democratic processes become ineffective.

The students at the University should realize that only when active interest is taken in the student government can we then expect to be able to gain the benefits of such activity in the form of a more active and responsible Student Senate.

In spite of the state disagreement directed at our election editorials, possibly some of the other students feel differently, as this past election gave witness to one of the most active election turnouts in the history of the University.

Letters To The Editor . . .

In accord with the policy of this paper, opinions expressed in letters to the editor are not necessarily those of the BEE GEE NEWS.

Dear Editor;

Come, come editorial writers of the BG News. Let's stop beating around the bush. You know the real reasons the students do not vote. Your recent editorial "A Misused Privilege" was timely but hardly an honest attempt to interpret the truth.

Your ill founded surmises that the poor turnout was due to students having become "darned lazy" was a very feeble attempt to skirt the issue. The students definitely are not "oblivious to the events around them" but instead are fully aware of these events. And therein lies the solution to the problem which has so vexed you. We are aware of the fact that no matter how we vote, our chosen "representatives" do not carry one iota of weight when it comes to university rules, regulations and what have you. Therefore, why vote and seemingly give approval to policies (formulated and enacted by the administration) which we would never sponsor.

As in every other editorial in your "laboratory" newspaper you have failed to show any signs of empathy for, let alone alliance with, the students you purport to represent.

When the four freedoms return to Bowling Green, and we are led instead of pushed, we will support student elections.

We aren't regimented yet.
Yours for a student govt.,
N Neil Jordan

Hall Like Home To Palsy Patients

There's a new dormitory on campus which is the latest word in modern architecture with its insulated heating, picture windows, and ranch-type structure.

It's more than just a well constructed building, however, as the interior reveals. There are pastel walls, bright figured drapes, and blonde furniture.

This home-like atmosphere is the result of careful study and planning by the Palsy Clinic, whose chief objective was to make the surroundings as comfortable as possible for the 12 cerebral palsy patients who will live there.

According to Miss Adeline McClelland, speech therapist, a staff of four, including a housemother, will be in charge when the children arrive on Sunday.

Tentative plans include the construction of a play ground and education of the school age children. From all indications Happy Hall will live up to its name.

McEwen To Judge

Merrill C. McEwen, chairman of the music dept., will be one of the judges for the band, choir, and orchestra state final contest to be held at Ohio Wesleyan tomorrow.

Contestants in these final auctions are the winners from the Ohio district high school contests.

Official Announcement

This column will hereafter contain announcements affecting the student body.

Speech Department Offers Community Drama Service

By BILL LUPTON

Nationally recognized as one of six in the United States is Bowling Green's Community Drama Service. This extension service is offered by the speech department with the cooperation of Dr. Elden Smith and under the direction of Prof. Harold B. Obee.

The aims of the service were explained by Mr. Obee as an "effort to help people raise standards and to do a better job of dramatics all the way around."

The services rendered to high schools, community and church drama groups include advice and technical guidance on productions, dramatic programs, lighting, make-up, costume design, scene building, and casting. Lectures and demonstrations for dramatic clubs and schools are given by the director and faculty members.

Organized on a shoestring basis and as extra curricular activity for students and faculty in 1948, the service has grown into a permanent and almost full time operation. Unusual interest has been shown by students, faculty, and drama groups since its conception.

Helping with the project at present are students Gene Reynolds and Judson Ellertson, plus faculty members and other students.

Published monthly, September through May, is the Community Drama News with a circulation to 250 schools and drama groups. A church supplement is published four times a year serving 800 churches. The News began as a mimeographed paper and in February 1949 was converted to a four to eight page offset publication. It is a special project of journalism student Charles Albury and put out with the help of the speech department.

Officially the service is maintained for groups in Ohio but last year requests and letters were received from 12 other states and Canada.

The most numerous requests received are for play selections from their 2,000 volume library of one and three act plays. Plays are recommended by the service from information received. Four or five plays are sent to the groups, they choose the play and order from the publisher.

Groups are sent out by the service to various community clubs at their requests—plays or dramatic readings are given for traveling expenses and royalties.

This fall the Community Drama Service sponsored a high school drama clinic for students and teachers, and conducted one of the few church drama clinics. Represented in the church clinic were 35 churches and 4 colleges representing 11 different denominations. A recent event was the Children's Theater that was attended by 850 children from the Bowling Green schools.

A major activity is the annual one-act play festival for high schools which will be April 1 this year. The drama groups of the schools produce plays on the BG stage and are given ratings and certificates.

From The Docket . . .

James Flaherty and John Isely pleaded not guilty in Student Court Wednesday to the charge of improper placing of decals on their car windshields. They said they had not been notified of the right method of application before the issuance of the ticket. They were both found guilty but the fines were suspended.

The case of Charles C. Parsons which was tried in absentia at the previous court session was reopened when the defendant appeared in court. He had been fined $2 for not showing a decal and he protested the case on the grounds that the car had been sold by him and was no longer listed under his name. The court acquitted Mr. Parsons and will resume the case next week when the new owner is summoned to appear.

Tried in absentia, Douglas Mooney was fined $1 for parking in an assigned area plus $2 for not displaying a permit. This constituted two offenses.

Clay Productions Show Imagination Of Art Student

When Carl von Linnaeus brought into general usage his system of classification of animals, little did he know his followers would have to contend with the ceramic students at Bowling Green State University.

At the present the Bee Gee clay molders of Charles Lakofsky's classes are creating "you name it" animals to be used for decorative purposes.

The "you name it's" are a combination of mammals and amphibians, imaginative and natural phenomena, modern and prehistoric animals.

Biology has no part in the production of a "you name it." One of the most unique creations might justifiably be entitled "your car of the future," in so far as its eyes resemble the headlights of a car. According to Prof. Willard F. Wankleman, chairman of the art dept. "It only needs a tail light."

Another quaint "you name it" is Curly, who has a dog's head, a trunk of a rhinoceros, and a dorsal side with a fringe on it.

The only requisites for making these animals are clay, an instrument for cutting, a rolling pin, and a terrific amount of imagination. One merely needs to roll out the clay to the desired depth, cut out the shape of the animal and then mold and shape.

English Debater Sends Thanks

Bowling Green State University's "enchanted ladies" were mentioned in a letter of appreciation received by Prof. M. Harold Mickle from Robin Day, one of the English debaters who visited here and engaged in a debate with the university debate team last winter.

A resolution passed by the Oxford Union Society, sponsors of the English debate tour, read:

"That this wishes to record its high appreciation of the most generous hospitality extended to the Society's representatives during their recent tour of American Universities, and looks forward to welcoming debating teams from the United States."

Mr. Day, in speaking also for his companion debater, Geoffrey Johnson-Smith, said in a postscript to the letter: "Bowling Green State looked after us delightfully. Its debaters were most able, its ladies enchanting and its organization excellent."

TB Check Held At Local Clinic

Monthly tuberculosis clinics are held at Johnston Hospital in connection with the County Health Service, Hubert E. Schwarz, general manager of the hospital, has disclosed.

Persons in the county are being X-rayed this morning. They are sent to the University hospital by county health officers. These clinics are held every last Friday of the month from 9 a.m. until noon. Janet Jackson, a sophomore, underwent an emergency appendectomy Monday. She is convalescing satisfactorily.

Miss Alice Greiner, assistant professor of speech, is also at Johnston Hospital recovering from an appendectomy.

Mr. Walter A. Zaugg was admitted to the hospital Monday night with the flu.

Don Bartrip, who suffered a broken jaw in an accident last Saturday, has been discharged, Mr. Schwarz reported.

Read It And Weep . . .

by BILL DAY

If by a stroke of fate, I should ever become a United States senator there is one bill that I would immediately introduce on the senate floor. That bill would be to outlaw the common type sugar bowls that are found in restaurants today. These monstrosities are unsanitary, wasteful, and ugly.

I am speaking of the type sugar bowl with the metal top that screws on the glass part and from which the sugar comes out the small hole on top. How these things ever got on the market is beyond my understanding. Invariably, the hole on the top of these sugar bowls is clogged with an extra large lump of sugar that has been in the bowl for the last six weeks and no sugar will come out. After shaking the bowl awhile to get the lump out of the way, the bowl is turned upside down again and sugar rushes out of the top, over the spoon, into the cup, onto the table, into your lap, on the floor, into your shoes, and anywhere else that a grain of sugar can possibly go.

Since I am a person who cares for just one level teaspoon of sugar in my coffee this sometimes runs into quite an expense. I either end up with a cupful of brown colored sugar or I shake and shake and still get only a couple of grains in my cup. The only people I know who like these sugar bowls are those sugar lovers who turn the gadget upside down and carry on a five-minute conversation while the sugar runs into their cup.

Therefore I would make the modern sugar bowl illegal and take the country back to the day of the old fashioned bowl where a person can stick his spoon in the bowl and come up with just one spoonful if that is what he wants, instead of a cupful.

One of the most sagacious thoughts I have heard in quite a long time was uttered by a local coed the other day when she said, "I wish I were back in high school so I could ride in a car again."

I received a letter from Kenneth Kadar this week severely taking me to task for my last column about the movies. This didn't surprise me at all because a lot of people like movies and I also find some of them very entertaining. My opinion about the movies was my own and not intended to be the opinion of any other person or group.

Who Asked You?

By DOC CRANSTON

Last week two of my feminine friends were quite indignant when, on a dateless Saturday eve, they were asked by one of the campus Lotharios why they were dateless. Therefore, the question for this week is, "Should women ask men for dates?"

Ez Meyer, a junior from Perryburg, said, "Certainly not! Equal rights for women are fine, but this is going a bit too far." She went on to say that even if she were in favor of it, our social morals prohibit the action.

"I don't see why they shouldn't," was the answer given by Cliff Hoover, a senior from Clarion, Pa. "During the war, when men were at a premium, they had no qualms about it; why should they feel any different now? I'll grant you that it might be a bit informal, but who wears morning dress to class at Bee Gee?"

Phyl Folts, a graduate student from Keuka Park, N. Y., said, "I think it's fine for functions such as the AWS formal and the like, but as far as an everyday date goes I'm afraid it's impossible. If a girl asked a fella for a date, he would think that either she were cracking up or that she was a very forward young lady. Come to think of it, no lady would even entertain such an idea."

"Who wants to be a Prince Charming?" asked Carl Huston, a senior from Lyndhurst, O. "Cave-man days are over. We've been out of the Garden of Eden for a good many moons. Let's be practical about the whole thing; if she can do it with a bit of tact, fine, especially on such a nice, friendly campus as Bowling Green."

Late News Summary

Compiled from International News Wire Service

NEW YORK—Telephone workers were called back to their jobs when a strike of Western Electric employees was called off as federal mediators brought company and union officials near a settlement. Although the strike was not scheduled to begin before Wednesday, about 10,000 workers walked out Monday.

WASHINGTON—A walkout of railroad union workers was postponed for two weeks in answer to a government request. The strike had been scheduled to begin Wednesday. Railroad officials had prepared to withdraw a large percentage of their long distant passenger and freight traffic from regular service.

BELGRADE—Yugoslavia's relations with Russia are growing more tense, according to a charge made by Marshal Tito. He declared that the Soviet bloc is conducting a campaign of "constant lies and slander." Speaking before the Yugoslav Parliament, Marshal Tito received confirmation as head of the government and minister of defense.

WASHINGTON—John Maragon, one time "friend at the White House," is at liberty under $2,000 bond after his conviction of contempt of Congress for having lied before Senate investigators that he was not involved in the "five percent" affair. His attorneys will appeal the case.

DETROIT—Negotiators attempting to put a stop to the 93-day Chrysler strike report that the "hopeless deadlock" has been broken and that settlement appeared close at hand.

Promenaders Sponsor Dance; WIS Jack Tourney Is Tomorrow

The Promenaders' Club orchestra dance tonight and the Women's Independent Society's Jack Dance Saturday, with two campus movies, comprise the all-campus schedule for this weekend.

Clayton Decker's orchestra will furnish music for both square and round dancing at the Promenaders' dance tonight from 9-12 in the Women's Bldg.

Sarah Aylsworth, secretary of the club, is dance chairman. Working with her on the committee are other club officers: Tom Durbin, president; Dorothy Hulse, vice president; and Elaine Derrin, treasurer.

The winner of a Jack Tournament held tomorrow afternoon will be presented a trophy at the WIS Jack Dance, tomorrow night in the Women's Bldg.

Competing in the tournament will be representatives from about 20 fraternities, sororities, and dorms. The Jack games are scheduled for the Circle at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

The atmosphere of childhood days will be carried through to the disc dance for which Ruth J. Dennis is chairman, and Nancy Adams is in charge of publicity.

"Sweet and Lowdown" is the campus movie scheduled for 7 and 9 tonight. It stars Linda Darnell, with Benny Goodman and his orchestra. "Travelling with the Browns," a short subject featuring the Cleveland football team which practices here each summer, will also be shown.

Lloyd Nolan stars in the mystery, "Circumstantial Evidence," to be shown tomorrow at the same time.

Falcon Relay Teams Run At Drake Today; BW Wins Meet Here

By HAROLD WASHBURN

Bowling Green State University will be represented in the Drake Relays for the first time today and tomorrow during the 41st annual running of the West's biggest track conclave at Des Moines, Ia.

Falcon teams are entered in the college division of the distance medley relay this afternoon and the two-mile relay tomorrow.

Running in the medley relay are Don Vander Horst, Lee Pate, Charles Mesloh, and Frank Kilgore. The two-mile relay quartet will comprise Nelson Detwiler, Mesloh, Pate, and Kilgore.

An underdog Bowling Green track squad fell short in its attempt to upset powerful Baldwin-Wallace Wednesday, the final score being 77%-49% in the Jackets' favor. Baldwin-Wallace took ten first places to Bee Gee's five.

The Falcons were deprived of an almost certain 11 points when Stan Weber, who is practice teaching in Cleveland, was unable to return for the meet, and dashman Bill Jordan was called home by a death in his family.

A new field record was set in the pole vault when Bill Hilliard of B-W cleared the bar at 13' 6 1/2". Jim Whittaker, now a member of the Bee Gee coaching staff, held the old record of 13' 3-1/16".

Bowling Green's first places were chalked up by Bruce King in the shot put and discus, Vern Stroud in the high jump, Frank Kilgore in the mile, and a dead heat finish in the two mile by Kilgore and Lee Pate.

Coach Matthews will take the Falcons to Hillsdale (Mich.) for their next meet, on May 6.

LEE PATE and Frank Kilgore (l. to r.) win the two-mile run in a dead heat against Baldwin-Wallace here Wednesday. They are shown above crossing the finish line, hand in hand. Kilgore had previously won the mile run.

Netters Host Ohio Northern And Tech This Weekend

The Falcon netters will try again to break into the win column today against Ohio Northern at 2 p.m. on the local courts after absorbing a hard fought 6-3 defeat at the hands of Dayton Wednesday. They also engage Lawrence Tech here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Bill Pickett lost to Bill O'Neill (D) 4-6, 6-2, 7-5. Jack List also fell by the wayside but only after losing a long 11-9 second set and the third, 6-2, after he had copped the first set 5-7.

Weldon Smith turned in the first win for Coach Lerch as he defeated Earl Kronenberger (D) 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. John Barr, fell before Nate Newkirk (D) by a 7-5, 5-7, 6-4, count.

John Burbridge also came out on the short end 6-4, 7-5, with Don Mudd (D) the victor. In the final singles match Richard Cook lost to Al Pounce (D) 6-3, 6-2.

The doubles matches were a different story as Bee Gee took two out of three from their Ohio opponents. Miller and Pickett provided the first win as they smashed Mudd and Mulvanovich (D) 6-3, 6-2.

Cook and Burbridge also turned in a winning performance 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, over Rozzo and Oberst (D). Smith and Barr lost to Dayton's O'Neill and Newkirk, 3-6, 0-6.

Theta Chi Pledges Win Chi Bowl Game

Overcoming a thirteen point deficit at the three-quarter mark, the Theta Chi pledges edged out Sigma Chi's pledges 32-29 in overtime in the annual Chi Bowl basketball game, Wednesday night.

Sigma Chi was ahead all through the game until the last two minutes when Theta Chi was able to knot the score at 27 all.

Bee Gee Routs Defiance, 10-3, For Second Baseball Victory

By DICK SOMMERS

Bowling Green's baseball Falcons won their second straight game Wednesday, defeating Defiance 10 to 3. A total of 14 hits rolled off the bats of the Bee Gee sluggers, while Defiance was held to six.

Defiance got off to an early 2 to 0 lead, but Bee Gee tied the game in their half of the second, scoring two runs on two hits. In the third, Bowling Green took a 3-2 lead and was never headed after that.

Second Time Is No Charm To Ballplayer

While Sigma Chi, PIKA, and Sigma Nu were rejoicing over their unblemished records in the fraternity softball league, Theta Chi was concerned with the loss of its manager and first baseman and the trick that fate played on him.

To them, lightning can strike twice in the same place and for an example they will cite Bob Gum, who is in Toledo Hospital with a broken tibia and dislocated ankle as a result of the game with the neighboring Chi Alpha nine. Last season, the same guy broke the same leg on the same field against the same team.

Behind 2 to 1 in the sixth, Theta Chi filled the bases. Then came a sharp hit to center and Gum went streaking home from second with the winning run. But Tom Gordon rifled a perfect strike to catcher Frank Abazia at the plate and Gum was tagged out as his leg doubled under him.

In the next inning Warren Abel singled and Ed Norwesh walked before Mel Nelson tripped to right, breaking the deadlock. Nelson tallied on Gene Veverka's single to center and Chi Alpha won 5 to 2.

Another heartbreaker on the diamond was suffered by Phi Delta pitcher Bill Keener, who gave up only two hits but lost to Sigma Chi 2 to 0. However, both of these hits were home runs, one by Tony Antonelli and the other by Ron Gillespie.

Bill Hetrick, hurling for Sigma Chi, gave another polished performance by setting 13 batters down via the strike-out route and allowing but four hits.

Other scores were:

Sigma Nu 8, ATO 0
SAE 10, Chi Alpha 7
Beta Sig 12, Delta Upsilon 6
Theta Chi 9, Delta Phi Beta 1
Kappa Sigma 15, ZBT 0
PIKA 9, Gamma Theta Nu 0 (forfeit)
Sigma Nu 14, Delta Tau Delta 9
PIKA 7, Phi Delta 6
ATO 13, ZBT 4
Sigma Chi 5, Delta Upsilon 2
Kappa Sigma 11, SAE 7
Delta Phi Beta 9, Beta Sigma 4

Bob Miller Gets Second Place In YMCA Diving

Bill Miller, Bowling Green freshman, placed second in the one-meter diving event at the International YMCA Swimming and Diving Meet held in the University of Minnesota pool last weekend.

Miller had previously qualified for the international finals by winning the one meter diving in the Ohio-West Virginia YMCA Meet.

The promising freshman also took a second place in the recent AAU Meet at Akron in the three meter diving.

Hal Robinson, ex-BG varsity track star, set the university broad jump record in 1948 with a leap of 23'7 1/2".

Defiance scored their last run in the sixth on two infield hits and a single to right. In their half of the sixth, the Stellersmen exploded for four more runs and completed the scoring for the day.

Lou Cross went the distance on the mound, to chalk up his first win of the year. He got off to a shaky first inning but settled down after that and did not allow another hit until the sixth. Cross finished the game in fine fashion by fanning the last three Defiance batters.

John Grill hit safely his first four trips to the plate to run his consecutive hit streak to seven for two games. Defiance finally got him out in the eighth.

For the first two games Grill is batting a lofty .875. Don Vorsewerck collected three singles in five trips, while Dominic had the only extra-base hit of the game, a triple.

The Falcon Nine now has a record of two wins and no losses. A total of 27 runs and 25 hits have rolled off the Stellersmen's war-clubs. The opponents have been able to get but 11 hits from the offerings of Ray Hegstrom and Lou Cross in two fine pitching performances.

Weston, Glass Hurl Two-Hitters In IM Softball

Norm Weston and Ollie Glass turned in fancy pitching jobs Tuesday in Independent softball play. Wet grounds forced baselines to be shifted slightly in some cases and made two diamonds unplayable.

Weston shut out the Dixiecrats with two hits as the Rockets paraded across 18 runs. Dick Mulvaine and Don Zeisler each rapped a pair of home runs.

Glass also doled out only two hits while the Wildmen were shellacking the Pioneers, 12-0. Ollie Cline blasted a homer in the fifth after the Wildmen had opened the game with nine first inning runs.

Northerners and MIS banged away at each other for seven innings with the Northerners finally taking a 13-10 win. The victors started with a rush, counting all their runs in the first three innings, then held on gamely to take the battle.

Jerry Hylin was the winning pitcher and Joe Fisch led the attack with a pair of singles and a triple.

Thurstin Hall and the KPs were all even at 10 apiece when darkness halted their game in the sixth frame. Dick Richardson had belted two homers for Thurstin and Aaron Deskins hit one for the KPs.

West Hall won from DPB on a forfeit, while the SIM-SPO and BeBoppers-Owls contests were postponed because of wet playing fields.

SCF Meets Sunday

Student Christian Fellowship will have its regular meeting on Sunday, April 30, and on Monday, May 1, a meeting of the Bible study interest group.

Rev. Barton Murray will speak on "Little Known Religions in the United States" on Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Rec. Hall.

A new series of proverbs will be led by Mr. Glendon Steele on Monday at 7 p.m. in his home at 137 North Church St.
